BUSINESS OUTLOOK

There are many banks and lenders on the market, but they don't all specialise in every asset class, so it's vitally important for any business to have a specialist on hand, to not only help guide them through the purchasing process, but also to make sure they obtain the most suitable product and the most attractive rate in the market.

We can help any SME in the UK who are looking to fund an asset for their business. Our main focus at Igenous Asset Finance is to work close with both our clients and the suppliers to ensure a seamless purchasing process.

Without question, we are the market leaders when it comes to technology. Our in-house proprietary credit profiling system can find the most suitable finance product to match our client's exact requirements, within seconds.

To find the right solution for all of our customers, we have developed a very strong relationship with all our funding partners and always try to exceed clients' expectations when it comes to service and price.

Right now, the industry is going through testing times. Some banks and lenders are - without question - going to be changing their appetite for risks due to the global economic conditions. This means that there are even more reasons for clients to make sure they are obtaining the best deal from their asset funders.

Our powerful in-house technology combined with a substantial lender portfolio means we can find the best funding solution for our clients within minutes.

EQUITY RELEASE

Are you looking at ways to generate cash to fund future growth in your business or strengthen your cashflow position? Why not release equity from any assets your business already owns? If you have any fixed assets which no longer have any form of finance interest, we can release the cash tied up in these assets so you can use it to reinvest back into your business. We can fund any form of assets from vehicles, equipment and machinery and release a percentage of that asset value back to your business.

Responsible

We'll assess the value of your current business assets to ensure you know how much you can borrow.

Tailored

We'll set up an equity release plan tailored to your exact requirements.

Super Fast

We'll put the entire process in place within a few days.

REFINANCE

Refinancing comes in handy when you're coming to the end of your existing finance agreements.

Do you have a balloon payment due? - We can help!

We can re-finance the balloon payment, which will help protect your cashflow and we can tailor a new finance agreement to suit your specific requirements.
